IRM Plc ("IRM") / Electric Cat Limited ("Electric Cat")

IRM is delighted to announce that it has been joined by a number of former employees from the information assurance consultancy Electric Cat.

The addition of these specialised consultants to IRM's Technical and the Risk Consultancy teams, has increased the company's service offering and delivery capacity by 35% - thereby positioning IRM at the forefront of the information security market place.

James Wooton, former Managing Director of Electric Cat, is intent on bringing decades of leadership experience within the information security sector to his new role as Technical Director of IRM.

He enthused, "As someone who has respected and admired the company's reputation for high standards and their expert mitigation of client risk over the years, I am delighted to have now become such an intrinsic part of the IRM team."

"I am looking forward to leading a large talented and capable consultancy team who will ensure that IRM maintains and strengthens its current position as one of the largest independent information security consultancies in the UK."

IRM CEO Charles White commented, "We are delighted to have such talented, capable, accomplished and qualified individuals joining IRM. Both the Technical and the Risk Consultancy teams at IRM are bolstered by the addition of the former employees of Electric Cat."

"I'm excited about the future prospects of the company with such skill and strength in numbers. We are able to expand not only our delivery capacity to meet client demand but also our services offering in line with IRM's corporate strategy."

"IRM has always believed the core strength of our company lies with our employees, their individual expertise and the quality of work they are able to deliver as a team."

In addition to increasing capacity to meet client demand, IRM's new highly skilled employees have also diversified the range of services provided by the company. In the near future IRM will capitalise its new employees experience in creating training schemes and programmes in order to offer courses to those wanting trusted and professional education on information security and risk reduction.
